

Epta UK's appetite for growth

Epta UK is at the Foodservice and Professional Kitchen Show in Birmingham (Jan 22-23) as it continues to build its presence in the food and beverage market with integral refrigeration for front and back of house.

The Epta UK stand features the New York vending machine for the sale of packaged ice cream and a range of chilled display cabinets for food and beverages. The units offer maximum personalisation, thanks to the digital print directly on the sheet metal, straight glass doors and total transparency with LED lighting.

A further feature of the large solutions is the promise of superior performance and reduced consumption, through the use of propane R290.

The stand also presents a selection of rear cabinets in stainless steel to complete the range for the Ho.Re.Ca. and food & beverage markets.

The show includes Salon Culinaire, the UK's largest cooking competition, which sees 300 major chefs battle it out. Epta UK is directly involved as the kitchens are equipped with Epta-supplied plug-ins, including the Tango Next.
